

Part I of a three-part interview with Director Tim Russ is now on our website and forum. Tim is most famous for his portrayal of Tuvok in seven seasons of Star Trek: Voyager, a role he reprises in "Of Gods and Men." In this segment, Tim discusses the process involved in creating the story for OGaM, how it mirrors Gene Roddenberry's storytelling philosophies, and some of the present-day issues tackled by the script writers. You will also see a new never-before-seen scene from the movie!
